CLEANING UP AND GROWING

Possible for Every One to Plant Few Simple Flowers on Their Property.

Cleaning up is limited in meaning. Homes may go through housecleaning. householders may clean streets and sidewalks and remove every rubbish trifie. In great buildings strenuous efforts may be made, will be made, to have every bit of litter carted away. That is a beginning.

The city may be made beautiful by nature's work. Plants respond so every little care. Flowers bloom when almost neglected. Is it not right not only to clean up, but to start the habit of growing plants bearing flowers?

It is not difficult and almost inexpensive. One great concern in this city, with hundreds of windows in the building, where a thousand work, has potted plants on every sill. Trailing vines haifway cover the brick walls, though they are artistic. In midsummer the factory is a joy to those who like to see evidences of nature's handiwork.

Greater things can be accomplished along this line. A space two yards wide and ten vards long in front of a factory or store will yield abundantly. The window ledges bear flowers, the vacant spots have earth and they will satisfy the eye with a charming mixture of color if given half a chance.

One prisoner, famed in story and song, had not a joy. Through a crevice in the damp wall there came the sprout of a little flower. He nursed it and gave it encouragement with a few drops of water from his limited supply. He was well rewarded, as the ambitious flower wanted to grow. And they want to grow on every vacant foot of land and every city has acres in the aggregate.

Clean-up is a proper rallying cry, but add to that a desire to see nature's marvels grow, and the city clean also will be a city beautiful .-Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Park Pemmissioner Ingersoll of Brooklys irges Systematic Beautifying of Highways.

Park Commissioner Raymond V. Ingersoll of the borough of Brooklyn has published a pamphlet entitled "Tree Planting on City Streets," which is to be sent to property owners whose trees are removed as dead or danger-

"Citizens are urged to plant trees in front of their property," the commissioner writes. "Still better than individual planting is co-operative planting by streets or blocks. This method secures uniformity of treatment and has been done successfully in several sections. Fuller particulars will be furnished if requested. The department cares for the pruning and spraying of street trees and the removal of dead trees. It has no appropriation for street planting. The number of street trees in Brooklyn is growing less by about fifteen hundred yearly.

Commissioner Ingersoll recommends the Oriental sycamore, the Norway maple, and the red oak for city streets and for suburbs. The poplars, silver maple, catalpa and willow are classed by him as undesirable.

Some Gardening Advice.

When he begins gardening the ama teur calls a spade a spade. After the third blister his vocabulary expands. Bon't expect your heliotrope blossoms to smell like the cologne named after them.

Trailing Arbutus should be hunted, not planted.

Wistaria grows well, but it takes its own time about it.

When introducing tomato plants to their summer home be gentle and courteous. A little kindness at this time will make them happy all the season through.

Cultivating a hedge is like acquiring an accent. You always prefer the way the natives do it.-New York Telegraph.

Keep on Cleaning Up.

Gratifying results followed the titular clean-up week, but these will be of little importance if the spirit does not continue throughout the year. Philadelphia is now in its best bib and tucker, and should remain so. Much as we necessarily depend upon the authorities for the heavier part of the work, that which is most essential is that every householder shall make up his mind to maintain existing conditions. It is the bits of paper and clusters of dirt that offend the eye. They are easily removed and ought not to be allowed to accumulate. Let every week be a clean-up week.-Philadelphia Inquirer.

ITCHED AND BURNED

Silverwood, Mich .- "My baby was about six months old when he first began to break out with little pimples on his head and face. Then they would run water and keep getting worse until his head was a regular sore eruption and water would run and stream from it and his face also. His whole body was affected. They were little white pimples which itched and burned something terrible. His clothing seemed to irritate him and it was almost impossible for him to sleep at night. They also disfigured him as they were on his face.

"We tried medicine but without success. The trouble must have lasted three or four weeks when I thought I would try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would bathe him with warm water, as warm as he could stand and Cuticura Soap; then apply the Cuti-INVITED TO PLANT TREES cura Ointment. HIT THE SPOT. Postum Knocked Out Coffee Alls.

There's a good deal of satisfaction and comfort in hitting upon the right thing to rid one of the varied and constant ailments caused by coffee drinking.

"Ever since I can remember," writes an Ind woman, "my father has been a lover of his coffee, but the continued use of it so affected his stomach that he could scarcely eat at times.

"Mother had coffee-headache and dizziness, and if I drank coffee for breakfast I would taste it all day and usually go to bed with a headache.

"One day father brought home a pkg. of Postum recommended by our grocer. Mother made it according to directions on the box and it just "hit the spot." It has a dark, seal-brown color, changing to golden brown when cream is added, and a snappy taste similar to mild, high-grade coffee, and we found that its continued use speedfly put an end to all our coffee ills.

"That was at least ten years ago and Postum has, from that day to this, been a standing order of father's grocery bill.

"When I married, my husband was a great coffee drinker, although he admitted that it hurt him. When I mentioned Postum he said he did not like the taste of it. I told him I could make it taste all right. He smiled and said, try it. The result was a success, he won't have anything but Postum."
